

Handmade

You can't go past the individual beauty of skilled craftsmanship – no product is exactly the same, making it all the more special. Global thinkers adore exotic objects brought to life by the hands of talented international artisans.

Vintage-style homewares look beautiful grouped together, bringing out each piece's individual beauty. Blue Square 'T-series' armchair with disc base upholstered in Tord Boontje fabric, from $1100, Interstudio. Vintage picture frames, from $65 each, David Met Nicole. Pages used in frames, part of Applehead's paper packs, $12, Georgie Love. Handblown glass droplets, $2.50 each, Heaven in Earth. Karin Eriksson bowl, $140, Space. Wallpaper jigsaw, $60, De De Ce. Karin Eriksson Signe vase, $180, Space. Side table made from reclaimed wood, $599, Meizai.

Stick to a black-and-white palette to add a different layer to ornate and unique pieces sourced from around the world. Beads and Pieces bottle, $245, bowl, $485/medium, both by Hella Jongerius for Artecnic, De De Ce. Tape measure, stylist's own. South African telephone wire bowl (in front), $13, Kalahari. Beads, stylist's own. Calamari Fritti necklace in crocheted cotton with vintage beads by Lucy Folk, $580, Pablo Fanque. Stitched Mandala linen throw (used as tablecloth), $265, Ziddi linen cushion (in background), $129, both Bholu. Stockists, page 174 ■